- Objective: To track the performance of Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index, and to minimize the tracking error between the net asset value of the sub-fund and the performance of the Index.

Refer to paragraphs 1 and 3 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on features of the product.

Investment Strategy

- Bloomberg Global Aggregate Index is a bond index representative of the global investment grade fixed-rate debt markets from both developed and emerging markets issuers. The Index is a Total Return Index: the coupons paid by the Index constituents are included in the index return.
- Index Composition: The securities composing the Index are rated investment grade (using middle rating of Moodys, S&P and Fitch) and have at least one year until final maturity. The Index is a multicurrency benchmark which is including treasury, government-related, corporate and securitized fixed-rate (including MBS and ABS) with fixed minimum issues sizes set for all eligible currencies.
- Exposure to the Index will be achieved through a direct replication, mainly by making direct investments in transferable securities and/or other eligible assets representing the Index constituents.
- The sub-fund intends to implement a sampled replication model in order to track the performance of the Index and it is therefore not expected that

Refer to paragraph 3 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on the investment strategy of the product.

the sub-fund will hold each and every underlying component of the Index at all times or hold them in the same proportion as their weightings in the Index. The sub-fund may also hold some securities which are not underlying components of the Index. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In normal market conditions, it is anticipated that the sub-fund will track the performance of the Index with a tracking error of up to 1%. • The sub-fund may combine direct replication with replication through derivatives and may use derivatives for EPM purposes. • The sub-fund may use financial derivative instruments to gain exposure to various assets, markets or other investment opportunities.
Parties Involved
WHO ARE YOU INVESTING WITH? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Management company: Amundi Luxembourg S.A. • Investment manager: Amundi Asset Management • Depositary: CACEIS Bank, Luxembourg Branch 	Refer to paragraph 2 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on the roles and responsibilities of these entities and what happens if they become insolvent.
KEY RISKS
WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT? The value of the product and its dividends may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment. The investment risks described here are not exhaustive.	Refer to paragraphs 3 and 5 of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.
Market and Credit Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to counterparty risk. An entity with which the sub-fund does business could become unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the sub-fund. • You are exposed to country risk – China. Securities acquired through cross-border programs might not be protected by court. Security exchanges in China may tax or limit short-swing profits. • You are exposed to credit risk. A bond or money market security could lose value if the issuer's financial health deteriorates. • You are exposed to currency risk. Changes in exchange rates could reduce investment gains or increase investment losses, in some cases significantly. • You are exposed to default risk. The issuers of certain bonds could become unable to make payments on their bonds. • You are exposed to interest rate risk. When interest rates rise, bond values generally fall. This risk is generally greater the longer the maturity of a bond investment. • You are exposed to market risk. Prices of many securities change continuously, and can fall based on a wide variety of factors.
Liquidity Risks
Shares of the sub-fund offered in Singapore are not listed and you can redeem only Business Days. Also, Singapore Distributors may accept and deal with redemption requests only on Singapore Business Days which are also Business Days. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Redemptions could be subject to delays and other redemption policies set by the sub-fund. • Any security could become hard to value or to sell at a desired time and price.

Product-Specific Risks
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • You are exposed to derivatives risks. Certain derivatives could behave unexpectedly or could expose the sub-fund to losses that are significantly greater than the cost of the derivative. The pricing and volatility of many derivatives (especially credit default swaps) may diverge from strictly reflecting the pricing or volatility of their underlying references. In difficult market conditions, it may be impossible or unfeasible to place orders that would limit or offset the market exposure or losses created by certain derivatives. • You are exposed to index replication risk. The performance of the sub-fund will follow the performance of the Index whether its performance is rising or falling. • You are exposed to investment fund risk. Investing in any investment fund involves certain risks an investor would not face if investing in markets directly. • You are exposed to management risk. The management team may be wrong in its analysis, assumptions, or projections. • You are exposed to MBS / ABS / TBA risk. MBS and ABS typically carry prepayment and extension risk and can carry above-average liquidity, credit and interest rate risks. With TBA, the sub-fund does not know until 48 hours after it places a purchase order which actual MBSs or ABSs will be used to fill the order and so cannot take steps to counter any decline in the value of a specific security during such period. • You are exposed to operational risk. In any country, but especially in emerging markets, there could be losses due to errors, absence or impossibility of the assets' segregation, service disruptions or other failures, as well as fraud, corruption, electronic crime, instability, terrorism or other irregular events. • You are exposed to sampling index replication risk. While the sub-fund will seek to track the performance of the Index through a sampling index replication strategy, there is no guarantee that the sub-fund will achieve perfect tracking and the sub-fund may potentially be subject to an increase of the tracking error risk. • You are exposed to standard practices risk. Investment management practices that have worked well in normal market conditions could prove ineffective or detrimental at other times. • You are exposed to sustainability risk. An ESG event or condition that, if it occurs, could cause an actual or a potential material negative impact on the value of an investment. These risks can impact an issuer's operational effectiveness and resilience as well as its public perception, and reputation affecting its profitability and in turn, its capital growth, and ultimately impacting the value of the components of the index tracked by the sub-fund. • You are exposed to the risk of use of techniques and instruments (securities lending risk). Loaned securities may not be returned or returned in a timely manner in the event of a default, bankruptcy or insolvency of the borrower, and rights to the collateral may be lost if the lending agent defaults.
